

ASHGROVE

To Whom It May Concern:

I Neil Matthews Russell-Taylor, of 22 Yatina Road Aldgate South Australia do hereby declare the following;

I have known Mr. Graham Daniels, of Strathalbyn, South Australia for approximately 2 years. I have found Graham to be an extremely interesting and highly intelligent man.

His understanding of matters relating to Australian and International law continues to astound me, not for the sheer depth of his knowledge or for his capacity to recall facts relating and supporting the establishment of the law, but for his ability to apply it without fear or favour to applications he knows to be incorrect.

He is a person of high moral standing and is a devout Christian all of which contribute to the solid character that I both respect and admire.

His knowledge of Australian Constitutional Law is phenomenal and combined with his desire to correct matters he believes to be defective in law and principle; he is both persuasive and eloquent using only documented fact as his instrument.

Graham is a successful businessman, with a variety of business ventures showing his ability to be instinctively creative and highly adaptive in his application to innovative and profitable endeavours.

It is a privilege and an honour to know such a person and I respect the moral values and Christian ideals that Graham stands for.

Respectfully Yours

Neil Russell-Taylor
